

TERMS OF USE FOR THE ACTIV LANDING PAGE

<http://zero.activ.kz> – is a component of the automated service system of Kcell JSC, which is called "activ landing page" and allows you to:

- Get information on your phone number and your current balance;
- Activate various value-added services;
- Pay for mobile services using online payment and redeem a voucher.

By activating the services on the activ landing page, you agree to their terms and conditions and billing procedures and expresses consent to receive and pay for such services.

Please, Note!

When you access the Internet via activ SIM card our automated service system identifies your mobile number and automatically authenticates you. Therefore, if you have been redirected to the activ landing page or access it on your own by entering <http://zero.activ.kz> in your mobile browser while using the activ data services, you can activate several services on the activ landing page without additional authentication steps. In this connection, if your device is in the tethering mode, the activ landing page and all its capabilities will also be available to users, whom you are sharing your Internet with.
