Description and rules for using variables (syntax) in templates

Templates contain variable elements (operands) that can take any of the listed values. The syntax for the variables is shown below.

- %w - any continuous set of letters and/or special characters.
- %d - any continuous set of numbers and/or special characters.
- %w{1,n} - a limited sequence of words (consisting of letters, numbers or special characters described below), separated by a space, where n is the number of words (there must be at least 1 and no more than n words).
